THIRD ANNUAL REPORT

OFFICE BOARD OF STATE PRISON COMMISSIONERS,
HELENA, Montana, December 1, 1893.

*To His Excellency,
John E. Rickards,
Governor of Montana:*

In compliance with the requirements of the law of the State, the Board of State Prison Commissioners of the State of Montana, herewith submit this, their Third Annual Report, for the fiscal year ending December 1, 1893:

The contract for the care and keeping of the convicts in the Montana State prison expired the first day of May, 1893. For thirty days previous to that date, the Board advertised for bids for the care, keeping, clothing, feeding, maintaining, furnishing medicines and medical attendance of all persons confined in the State prison at Deer Lodge, Montana. Each proposal was to specify the compensation per day for each prisoner for a period of two years.

There were twelve bids received in answer to this advertisement, which bids were as follows, to-wit:

1. Chapman, C. P.—Fifty cents per capita per day for each and every prisoner confined in the State prison.
2. Coleman, W. and L.—Fifty-five cents per capita per day for the first one hundred prisoners; fifty cents per capita per day for the second one hundred prisoners; forty-five cents per capita per day for the third one hundred prisoners; and forty cents per capita per day for all prisoners over three hundred.

3. Conley and McTague.—Forty cents per capita per day for each and every prisoner confined in the State prison.

4. Davidson, T. C.—Forty-eight and one-half cents per capita per day for each and every prisoner confined in the State prison.

5. Davis, Joseph.—Sixty-eight cents per capita per day for each and every prisoner confined in the State prison.

6. Furay, Wm. F.—Forty-nine cents per capita per day for each and every prisoner confined in the State prison.

7. Gallagher and Joslyn.—Forty-four cents per capita per day for each and every prisoner confined in the State prison.

8. Gleeson and Ballenger.—Forty-nine cents per capita per day for each and every prisoner confined in the State prison.

9. Hard, C. D.—Sixty-one and one-half cents per capita per day for each and every prisoner confined in the State prison.

10. Lodge, Joseph.—Forty-nine cents per capita per day for the first two hundred prisoners confined in the State prison; and forty-five cents per capita per day for all prisoners over that number.

11. Sheads and Smith.—Fifty-three cents per capita per day for each and every prisoner confined in the State prison.

12. Tonkin, Samuel.—Sixty-four and one-half cents per capita per day for the first one hundred and fifty prisoners; and forty-five cents per capita per day for all prisoners over that number.

On the 20th day of April, 1893, the bids were opened in the office of the Governor, President of the Board, in the presence of the members of the Board of State Prison Commissioners and the Clerk of the Board. After careful consideration of all these bids, the one offered by Conley and McTague was accepted, it being the best and the lowest bid so offered.

After proper consideration a contract, duly executed as required by law, and secured by a bond in the sum of fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars, was entered into with the said Conley and McTague to care for, safely keep, confine and maintain at the State Prison at Deer Lodge, Montana, all persons confined, sentenced and delivered at said penitentiary for violation of the laws of the State; also to clothe, feed and furnish medical attendance to all persons now confined, or who may be hereafter confined in the said State penitentiary, for the sum of forty (40) cents per capita per day; the limit of the continuance of which said contract is to be the first day of May, A. D., 1895.

In the report of this Board for the year 1892, the need was shown of additional room and improvements at the State Prison at Deer Lodge, Montana. An appropriation of $28,000 was asked for, wherewith to construct a stone wall about the prison grounds, and also a new wing to the prison building, in which should be accommodated the convicts who are now kept in the log building in the yard. An appropriation in the sum named was made at the session of 1893, but the wing was not then constructed.

An appropriation was also made in the sum of $42,000 for the year 1893, and $30,000 for the year 1894, for the erection of a State prison at Billings, Mont. In accordance with the act providing for the erection of the eastern State prison at Billings, Mont., the Board of State Prison Commissioners, within sixty days after the passage of said act (on date of April 14, 1893), proceeded to the city of Billings, in the county of Yellowstone, and there selected a site for said eastern State prison; which site consists of at least forty (40) acres of land, situate about one hundred (100) rods from the present fair grounds, and included within the said site is a stone quarry, embracing at least five (5) acres. The description of the site so selected is as follows, to-wit:

Blocks numbered 295, 297, 298, 299, 310, 319, 327, 331, 332, 326, the lots in each of said blocks being platted and numbered consecutively from 1 to 24, both inclusive, and the total number of lots in all of said blocks being 240; also lots numbered 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18 in block numbered 294; also lots numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 in block No. 309; also lots numbered 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24 in block No. 333; also lots numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24 and fractional lots numbered 5, 15 and 16 in block No. 328; also lots numbered 21, 22, 23 and 24 in block No. 320; also all of the unplatted lots or fractions of lots in any and all of said blocks numbered 328 and 320; also all streets, avenues and alleys included between the above described lots and blocks of land.

A committee of citizens of the city of Billings, selected by the Board of Trade on behalf of the said city, granted and presented to the State of Montana the site so selected by this Board, and then and there obligated themselves to furnish the State with a perfect title and warranty deed to said land.

Much to the disappointment of the Board it was found impossible to take further action in the erection of the eastern State prison. Owing to the financial depression in the money market and also to the fact that much of the State's money was tied up by reason of numerous bank failures, the Board deemed it inexpedient to incur any extra expense, nor did they feel justified in drawing warrants, or in fact incurring any expense whatever or at all so long as they had no cash available with which to meet the warrants. They decided that of necessity they were obliged to safely care for the prisoners in the Deer Lodge penitentiary and therefore agreed to make such improvements as would prevent the escape of the inmates there.

The most glaring need which presented itself in this connection was a stone wall to take the place of the old board fence, which was becoming old and rotten in places, and which had been repeatedly repaired.

Owing to the almost depleted treasury it was thought best to employ prison labor in the construction of this wall. A superintendent was appointed whose duty it was to take entire control and charge of the work under and in accordance with the direction of the Board of State Prison Commissioners. As a number of the prisoners were ignorant even of the rudimentary principles of mason work the Board decided it would be better to employ one competent foreman, who should engage practically in the work. With the exception of these two men so employed the laborers have all been convicts. The superintendent acts in the capacity of architect, thus doing away with any extra expense for such services.

The work has progressed very satisfactorily, and much credit is due to the superintendent. In order to furnish an incentive to good, thorough work, the Board resolved that they would recommend to the Governor those men who have labored faithfully in the performance of the work given them, and suggest that their sentence be diminished by pardon. Accordingly this plan was adopted and in almost every instance has proved successful, the men (especially those whose terms would expire at an unfavorable time of year, and who would have been discharged in the middle of winter) having worked diligently and faithfully to acquire a diminution of their sentence of one month. One month has been the average time that has been recommended to be diminished from the sentence of men working upon the wall, but in one or two instances, in the case of men who have been very active in the performance of duties assigned them, and who have been busily engaged since the commencement of the work, a diminution of six weeks or two months has been suggested. A list of men so recommended for diminution of sentence will be found at the close of this report, marked "Exhibit A."

Although met with opposition from the outside, mainly through the press, the plan of employing convict labor in the construction of the wall has succeeded admirably. Both the morals and health of convicts can be improved by the mind and muscles being interested in employment. There is no place where more evil can arise by reason of enforced idleness than in a prison. Physical decay, moral weakness and insanity are some of its sure results. The State whose laws have been violated should not wreak its vengeance upon the minds, bodies or souls of its prisoners.

The majority of the convicts are eager and anxious to work and most of them have proved to be very efficient workmen. Some of them, in fact many, are young and have never learned a trade, but are willing to begin at the foundation and work up. Self-improvement with self-respect is thus aroused and stimulated in the direction of a better manhood.

We would like to suggest that some course of action be taken in relation to discharged convicts. It seems as though it were the duty of the State in some way to make provision for discharged convicts. In some States this is provided for by a commissioner whose duty it is to provide an opening in which work can be had by a prisoner and a support assured immediately upon his discharge from the prison. Now a man upon his discharge is simply deposited outside the prison wall with a gratuity of but $5 and a coarse but decent suit of clothing; if he buys a railroad ticket for but a few miles his money is exhausted and he finds himself without a cent, without a home, without a friend, and no prospects of obtaining work whereby he may earn an honest living. Now, at that moment he needs a helping hand more than at any other period in his life. The State can do double duty here, not only in aiding the man but in preventing crime. Our statistics show that a number of our prisoners are serving a second term, and this number will probably increase or double unless something is done to help the discharged prisoners. Of course it will not follow that every man so assisted to find honest employment will immediately reform and lead a better life, but a large percent of them undoubtedly will strive to work up by means of the opening so furnished them, and it will surely be found to be cheaper in the end to expend a reasonable amount of money in this direction than to convict these men repeatedly and have them a charge upon the State for a term of years. A very large proportion of the men might be so saved could they at the time of their discharge find some way open for them, some work at which they could start. If the State cannot undertake this work, cannot some society be formed for this purpose as is done in so many States?

In conclusion we beg to call attention to the tables following this report, which tables contain detailed statistics in relation to the prisoners.

Table No. 1 sets forth the birth places of the prisoners committed to the State prison.

Table No. 2 gives the number of commitments from the different counties. The maximum of these, thirty-nine, were convicted in Lewis and Clarke county.

Table No. 3 gives the period of sentences of prisoners so confined in the State prison—eighteen of which are life sentences.

Table No. 4 shows the occupation of the prisoners. Although most of these prisoners seem to have learned some trade, very few are proficient in the same, as was stated above.

Table No. 5 shows the offences for which persons have been committed to the penitentiary. It will be observed that offences against the person are more in proportion than the other two.

Table No. 6 shows the marriage condition of the prisoners, from which it will be seen that a large majority are single men.

Table No. 7 shows under what process the prisoners were convicted.

Table No. 8 shows the age of the prisoners. Attention is called to the proportion of commitments of persons under twenty years of age.

Table No. 9 shows the number of prisoners treated by the prison physician and the disease for which they were treated.

Table No. 10, being a continuation of Table No. 9, shows the number of days, weeks or months each prisoner was treated by the physician.

Table No. 11 shows the number of prisoners punished for violation of rules and the number of the rule violated.

Table No. 12 shows the mode and extent of punishment of the prisoners who have violated the rules of the prison.

Table No. 13 shows the number of prisoners confined in the State prison who cannot read, cannot write; those who have attended school not to exceed one year; those who have attended school not to exceed six months, and those who have never attended school at all.

Table No. 14 shows the term of sentence of prisoners described in the above table, viz: Those who cannot read, cannot write, etc.

Table No. 15 shows the financial condition of the prisoners confined in the State prison.

Table No. 16 shows the process of release of prisoners for the fiscal year ending December 1, 1893; whether discharged by expiration of sentence, pardon, etc.

Table No. 17 shows the length of "good time" allowed prisoners; the statute and the rules of the prison having provided that every prisoner who shall conduct himself in an orderly and peaceable manner shall be entitled to dimunition of time from his sentence.

Tables Nos. 18 and 19 show the amount expended in furnishing discharged prisoners with cash gratuity and suitable clothing, and the number of prisoners so supplied.

Table No. 20 shows the number of previous commitments of prisoners received during the year and in previous years. It will be seen that the number serving a second term is more than double the number mentioned in the report for last year, which fact emphasizes the necessity of providing for discharged convicts.

Table No. 21 shows the conduct of prisoners while in prison, who have since been discharged.

Table No. 22 shows the number of prisoners who were convicted prior to December 1, 1892; number received since that date; number released during the fiscal year ending December 1, 1893, and the number remaining in custody on the first day of December, 1893.

Table I. relates to the men working upon the improvements at the State prison and shows the number of days they worked in their several capacities, and the estimated value of the work so done and performed.

Table II. relates to the prison wall, giving statistics relative to material used in the construction of the same.

Table III. is simply an itemized statement of every article purchased in connection with the building of the wall and improvements at the State prison, all materials used, and salaries of superintendent, foreman and guards.

Table A shows the amount paid contractors monthly for the care and keeping of convicts for the fiscal year commencing December 2, 1892, and ending December 1, 1893, and the amount paid out monthly for clothing for discharged convicts and the amount of money paid out to such convicts during said fiscal year as cash gratuity.

Table B shows the name of the sheriff of each county, county wherein prisoner was sentenced, date of admission at prison, mileage allowed sheriff for transporting each convict and the amount so allowed, mileage allowed sheriff to and from prison and the amount so allowed, number of days board for each prisoner and amount allowed for same, total number of prisoners taken from each county and total amount allowed each sheriff for the fiscal year ending December 1, 1893.

Table C refers merely to the Board of State Prison Commissioners and is an account of the expenses incurred by them during the fiscal year ending December 1, 1893.

Exhibit A gives a list of the prisoners working upon the prison improvements, whose sentences were diminished, and the amount of "good time" which they received over and above the statutory amount.

FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT

OFFICE BOARD OF STATE PRISON COMMISSIONERS,
HELENA, Montana, December 1, 1894.

*To His Excellency,
John E. Rickards,
Governor of Montana:*

In accordance with Section 10 of Article VII. of the Constitution, we, the members of the Board of State Prison Commissioners, herewith submit our report of the operations of the Montana State Prison for the fiscal year ending December 1, 1894.

The health of the prison population has been good considering the overcrowded condition of the cells and buildings. The aggregate number of deaths has been two (2) less than for the year 1893.

The convicts have generally been obedient and orderly, no serious trouble having arisen; the only sign of insurrection or rebellion being confined to six men, who struck while employed upon the building of the wall.

The average number of men at work upon the wall during the year has been ninety-five; and in all cases with the exception previously mentioned they have been steady and willing workers.

On July 6, 1894, the opening in the west wall was closed; the railroad track which had effected entrance at that point was torn up and relaid, thereby making entrance through the main gate. On October 20, 1894, the whole track was taken up and removed, and we are glad to announce at this time the completion of the wall. This work was of far greater magnitude than was anticipated at its commencement a year and a half ago. The massiveness and beauty of this wall can be appreciated only by personal inspection. For strength and durability, as well as from an artistic standpoint, this structure has no equal in the United States, and it is a flattering monument of convict skill and industry. Especially should the superintendent of construction, James McCalman, be commended for the faithfulness and fidelity with which he has discharged his duties, arduous though they were.

Each separate stone laid in the wall has been under the chisel and hammer. At the four corners of the wall, lookouts, in the shape of towers, have been erected, and much beauty and variety in the mode of architecture, has here been displayed. The entrances, particularly the main entrance, is a most massive and magnificent piece of masonry. This main entrance is built with a vestibule containing a door or gate at each end, so that wagons and teams may drive through the outside gate into this vestibule, and then, after the outside gate has been closed and the inside one opened, on through into the yard, thus affording no possible means of escape of convicts while teams are driving in and out of the yard.

Above this vestibule rooms have been finished off, and will be heated by stoves, as will also the lookouts in the towers at the corners of the wall.

The top of the wall is finished by a four-foot coping of granite upon which the guards may walk from lookout to lookout while on duty.

During the months of May, June, July and August, 1894, a crew of men were employed in excavating, levelling and grading outside the south and west walls, and also during part of the months of October and November. Grading and levelling has also been done outside the north wall and within the enclosure; this work is still in progress, and when in the spring grass seed is sown upon the terraces outside of the wall, the appearance will be greatly enhanced.

From time to time, as the law requires, the members of the board have visited the prison and have exercised a general supervision over all matters connected with the management thereof.

There has been a marked improvement in the food furnished the convicts this year, and the fare now is wholesome, varied and well cooked.

Action has been taken in regard to the establishment of a school in the penitentiary. In February circular letters were sent out to the different county superintendents of common schools, requesting them to inform the different schools in their respective counties of the proposed action of the Board in the establishment of a school at the penitentiary, and to urge that a collection of second-hand school books be made by the pupils in each county, and such books be sent to the office of the Board of State Prison Commissioners.

In response to these letters, books were sent in from almost every county in the State, the total number received being 1,256. The books, after being sent to the penitentiary, were all classified and a complete list of them made, which list is now on file in the office of the Board of State Prison Commissioners. Before another year shall have elapsed we hope to have a school fully organized and in running order in the prison.

Education is certainly instrumental in moral reform. It's natural trend is upward. Give these prisoners an opportunity to learn, teach them to read, write and compute in numbers, and even this feeble effort to lift them above their former selves will be productive of good results and will appeal to their sense of manhood. It should be the aim of the State to instill new thoughts and ambitions into these lives committed to its care and control, so that when they shall have served their term of imprisonment they may be sent back into society fitted to become useful members thereof, and with a firm resolve to take a new stand in the world.

The custom adopted by the Board last year of allowing extra "good time" to prisoners who have worked faithfully upon the improvements has succeeded admirably. To merit any diminution whatever or at all a prisoner has been obliged to work well and industriously and to have been obedient to all the rules of the prison.

A better plan, however, is embraced in what is known as the "Parol System," and it is to this that we would suggest the attention of the Legislature be called. Ohio was one of the first States to adopt this system, and since then many states have tried the same plan with success. Why would it not be likely to succeed in our own State?

If a man has received an exceptionally long and severe term for a crime committed in passion, and has really repented, the sooner he is released from prison and is able to start at some work or employment in order to regain his manhood, the better it would be both for the prisoner and for the prison.

So long as a man remains hardened and makes no effort toward self-improvement, just so long should the prison assume firm control over him, but when he is earnestly striving to better his condition, release from prison life will certainly prove beneficial, and trust and confidence put in such a man will seldom be misplaced. Of course some of the convicts incarcerated remain hardened and obdurate throughout their terms; others are filled with remorse even before they reach the prison cell, such a man going out into the world again on the parole system would become a useful and law-abiding citizen.

In referring this matter to the attention of the Legislature and suggesting the advisability of enacting legislation to cover the matter, we would offer the following outline:

Let the Board of State Prison Commissioners be vested with the authority to parole such convicts as, in their judgement, may be fitted to return to their liberty.

Let it be the duty of said Board, before any convict is paroled, to designate the occupation in which he may engage as soon as he is released.

Let the prisoner be furnished with blank reports which he shall be required to fill out and return to the Board regularly at such times as the Board may direct.

Let such prisoner be prohibited from going outside the bounds of the State, and if deemed advisable he may be restricted to certain counties, always with the understanding that prior to changing his residence he receive written permission from the Board so to do, and that immediately upon arriving at his destination he transmit his address to the Board.

Let a man who fails to conform to the rules of the parole contract be reincarcerated in the prison without further process of law or expense to the State of a new trial. Such a man will not be again paroled, but must serve out his term of imprisonment.

With this parole system pardons would be greatly decreased and at the same time the Governor would be able to obtain partial relief from one of the most trying ordeals of his executive work, namely, the consideration of applications for pardon.

In order to lessen the expenses of the State government the Board recommends that the expenses for transporting prisoners to the State prison be paid by the respective counties, the same as they now are for transporting the insane to the asylum, and that Section 6 of "An act to provide fees and compensation for the several county officers in the counties of Montana," approved March 14, 1889, be amended so that persons transporting not only the insane, but the prisoners, shall receive only their actual and necessary expenses.

Although the wall proper was completed within the appropriation allowed, yet for additional safety, as well as for the appearance of the whole structure, it was deemed advisable to build the vestibules previously described.

To prevent the incurring of a deficiency, which would have to be referred to the legislature, it was decided to pay for these extra improvements from the appropriation for the "care and keeping of convicts," as there was a surplus in that fund.

The act passed at the third session of the Legislative Assembly entitled "An act to provide for the care, keeping, maintaining, custody and control of convicts for the State," approved March 10, 1893, has proved satisfactory in every particular. The amount paid the present contractors for keeping the convicts the past twelve months has been $48,642.

Eastern State Prison.

The first definite action taken this year in regard to the eastern State prison was the result of a meeting of the Board held in the office of the Governor on the 13th day of December, 1893, at which meeting it was decided to commence immediately upon the erection of the eastern State prison by advertising for plans and specifications in detail for the construction of a prison which should accommodate not less than 200 prisoners, and also contain an office and guards' quarters. It was further decided that the cost of the building should not exceed the sum of $45,000, and that the State would pay for the plans that might be accepted the sum of $350. Accordingly plans and specifications were advertised for and in response to said notice three sets of plans were submitted to the Board. These plans were opened and were very carefully considered by the Board at three different meetings and as the set offered by William White of Great Falls appeared to be the most suitable and complete an order was made awarding to the said William White the sum of $350 in payment of the plans and specifications furnished by him.

Although the Board purchased the plans from Mr. White they were not at all satisfied with them, but concluded to hire an architect and have plans drawn under their personal supervision which would more nearly coincide with their ideas of what the eastern State prison should represent. Accordingly, on the 6th day of April, 1894, N. J. McConnell was appointed architect and superintendent of the eastern State prison, his duty, among others, to make new plans and drawings for the prison, which plans and specifications should be completed by the 20th day of April, 1894. Notice was then published to receive sealed proposals and bids for the construction and erection of the State prison in accordance with the plans and specifications which would be on file in the office of the Board of State Prison Commissioners after April 20, 1894.

Ten bids were furnished in accordance with the notice advertising for "sealed proposals and bids for the construction of the penitentiary at Billings, Montana," which bids were opened in the office of the Board of State Prison Commissioners on the morning of May 12, 1894. The contract was awarded to Fisk J. Shaffer, his being the lowest and the best bid. A bond in the sum of $133,768 was furnished by the said Fisk J. Shaffer. The contract was signed and it, together with the bond duly signed and verified, was placed on file in the office of the Board of State Prison Commissioners.

The next question which presented itself to the consideration of the Board, in connection with the eastern State prison, was that of supplying the heating plant for the prison.

Notices were again published advertising for sealed proposals and bids for supplying the heating plant and apparatus for the eastern State prison, and owing to the strike and tie up of trains on the N. P. R. R. the date for opening the bids was postponed.

The bids (four in number) were opened on the 19th day of July, but the Governor being absent from the city, no action was taken in the matter until the next day, July 20, 1894, at 11 o'clock, on which date the contract for furnishing the heating plant and apparatus for the eastern State prison was awarded to Adams & Rider, theirs being the lowest and the best bid for the hot blast and exhaust system of heating, which was the system the Board decided to adopt.

Work was commenced upon the eastern State prison during the month of June, 1894, and was not abandoned until the weather became too cold to warrant the performance of good work.

Following are statistical tables in relation to the prisoners confined in the western State prison, their conduct, health, etc., and also the expense of maintaining the said institution:

Table No. 1 gives the birth place of each prisoner confined in the State prison.

Table No. 2. Number of commitments by county.

Table No. 3. Term of sentence.

Table No. 4. Occupation prior to incarceration.

Table No. 5. Crime for which committed.

Table No. 6. Marriage condition.

Table No. 8. Age of prisoners.

Table No. 9. Number of prisoners treated by prison physician and disease for which they were treated.

Table No. 10. Length of time under treatment.

Table No. 11. Number of prisoners punished for violation of rules.

Table No. 12. Mode and extent of punishment.

Table No. 13. Financial condition of prisoners.

Table No. 14. Process of release of prisoners.

Table No. 15. Amount of "good time" allowed prisoners.

Tables Nos. 16 and 17. Amount expended in furnishing prisoners cash and clothing upon their discharge.

Table No. 18. Number of previous commitments of prisoners confined in the State prison.

Table No. 19. Conduct of prisoners discharged during the year.

Table No. 20. Movement of prison population.

Table I. relates to the men working upon the improvements at the State prison and shows the number of days they worked in their several capacities.

Table II. relates to the improvements at the western State prison and shows the amount of money expended in the purchase of tools, implements, materials, etc.

Table III. relates to the expense incurred in connection with the eastern State prison and amount expended for the years 1893 and 1894.

Table A shows the amount paid contractors monthly for the care and keeping of convicts for the fiscal year commencing December 2, 1893, and ending December 1, 1894, and the amount paid out monthly for clothing for discharged convicts and the amount of money paid out to such convicts during said fiscal year as cash gratuity.

Table B shows the name of the sheriff of each county, county wherein prisoner was sentenced, date of admission at prison, mileage allowed sheriff for transporting each convict and the amount so allowed, mileage allowed sheriff to and from prison and the amount so allowed, number of days board for each prisoner and amount allowed for same, total number of prisoners taken from each county and total amount allowed each sheriff for the fiscal year ending December 1, 1894.

Table C refers merely to the Board of State Prison Commissioners and is an account of the expenses incurred by them during the fiscal year ending December 1, 1894.

Exhibit A gives a list of the prisoners working upon the prison improvements, whose sentences were diminished, and the amount of "good time" which they received over and above the statutory amount.

Respectfully submitted,

J. E. RICKARDS, Governor,

President of the Board.

H. J. HASKELL,

Attorney General.

L. ROTWITT, Secretary of State,

Secretary of the Board.
